MID PENN BANK & HACC PARTNERSHIP

Career Pathway

➔ First 15 credits focused on financial services industry while earning Mid Penn Bank's Banking Certificate.

➔ After completion of the Banking Certificate, Mid Penn Bank will continue to fund the remainder of the associate degree program while the participant advances their career.

Mid Penn Bank's College Through Work Program

This program gives individuals a pathway to a career and a degree. Mid Penn Bank and HACC, Central Pennsylvania's Community College, have partnered to provide career development and mentorship to Bank employees.

Employees will earn an income while they focus on learning specific job skills, become acclimated to a professional environment, and complete the prerequisites to enroll in an associate degree program at HACC.

Mid Penn Bank

For over 150 years, Mid Penn Bank has been a staple of the community, providing comprehensive financial solutions and helping our customers reach their financial goals. Originally founded in 1868 as The Millersburg Trust Company, Mid Penn Bank has expanded throughout Pennsylvania becoming a full-service financial company with assets totaling more than $4.7 billion.

HACC, Central Pennsylvania's Community College

In 1964, HACC became the first community college in Pennsylvania. As the largest and oldest community college in the state, HACC offers more than 100 programs across five campuses and online.
